

Deferred Income Plans – Maximum Annual Contributions to a Pension Plan and a TFSA

YEAR	RRSP <sup>1</sup>	RPP <sup>2</sup>	TFSA
2016	$25,370	$26,010	$5,500
2017	$26,010	$26,230	$5,500
2018	$26,230	$26,500	$5,500
2019	$26,500	$27,230	$6,000
2020	$27,230	$27,830	$6,000 <sup>3</sup>

- + unused RRSP deduction room at the end of the preceding year
- + pension adjustment reversal for the current year
- + 18% of earned income for the preceding year (up to the limit for the current year in the table) less pension adjustment for the preceding year
- past service pension adjustment for the current year

<sup>2</sup> The Registered Pension Plan (RPP) annual contribution limits apply to defined contribution RPPs only. The defined contribution limit for current services (for all employer and employee contributions) is calculated as follows: 18% of annual compensation for the current year (up to the limit in the table).

<sup>3</sup> The Tax Free Savings Account (TFSA) limit is indexed but only in increments of $500.

Notes:

1. The RRSP deduction limit can be found on the federal notice of assessment for the previous year.
2. The deadline for RRSP contributions for the 2019 year is Monday, March 2, 2020 (February 29, 2020, the 60th day after the end of 2019, falls on a weekend; accordingly, the next business day is March 2nd, 2020).
