

Powering Audit Analytics –
In partnership with Deloitte

Do you aspire to be a highly sought after accountant after graduation?

If your answer is yes, join the Audit Analytics elective module and you will be on your way to becoming the next leading generation of accountants who are well-equipped with audit analytics capabilities!

The elective module is part of the “Powering Audit Analytics – in partnership with Deloitte” programme, which is created in collaboration with the Singapore Management University (SMU). Deloitte Singapore is the first to design and teach the Audit Analytics elective under the School of Accountancy.

As part of the programme, you will:

- Learn to apply data analytics in audit based on a risk-based methodology with real-life examples
- Be equipped with analytics skills to prepare yourself for the technological advances that has shaped the way audit is done
- Apply audit analytics in real-life companies through the development of prototype dashboards with guidance and mentorship provided by audit partners from Deloitte
- Gain first-hand experience through taking on real-life projects for Deloitte
- Have priority internship placements at Deloitte, including overseas opportunities for students in the Second Major in Accounting Data & Analytics (Bachelor of Accountancy) to get first-hand opportunities to work at Deloitte
- Receive book prize if you are the top performing audit analytics student
- Be offered priority job placements with Deloitte

Deloitte-SMU Audit Analytics: Programme Outline

Audit Analytics Process

Learn the basics of Extract, Load and Transform (ETL) in data analytics and visualisation tools such as Tableau for application to the Audit Analytics Capstone Project.

Application of Data Analytics in Audit

Leveraging on the knowledge from the pre-requisite courses and the "Audit Analytics Process" stream, understand the "how" in applying data analytics to audit.

Audit Analytics Capstone Project

The ability to conceptualise the application of audit analytics to real-life companies in the capstone project will be the gauge to the learning outcomes of the earlier 2 streams.

Who is eligible?

All accountancy undergraduates are welcome to apply for the elective programme.

How to apply?

The module will be open for bidding on SMU's BOSS (Bidding Online SyStem) platform.
