Deloitte and Red Hat:
Unlocking cloud potential

As businesses adopt best-of-breed cloud technologies to meet business objectives, many end up with a complex operational model, typically including multiple cloud environments. A common challenge is that heterogenous cloud environments require distinct approaches to automation and management, deployment models, security, and compliance, among others.

The resulting complexity can lead to significant challenges in achieving business outcomes such as agility, speed of deployment, operational efficiency, and cost reduction. Together, Deloitte and Red Hat are uniquely positioned to unlock this complexity and help our clients realize the benefits promised by cloud technology.

Accelerate innovation. Reduce IT complexity. Deliver better business outcomes.

WHAT WE DO: STREAMLINE CLOUD DEVELOPMENT, OPERATIONS, AND MANAGEMENT

We collaborate with business and technology leaders to modernize IT for the cloud era using best-of-breed approaches

We bring focus to the digital transformation, IT automation, and management capabilities needed to succeed in a cloud-native world using Red Hat's open-source technologies, Deloitte's industry experience, and up-to-date DevOps methodologie

We enable our clients' enterprise digital transformation and accelerate their development process with IT optimization, automation, cloud-native application development, and tested multi-cloud operations platforms that deliver tangible benefits
