Accelerate value and build the Kinetic Enterprise™ with Deloitte's Enterprise Analytics Platform

The wealth of data being generated today presents limitless possibilities for analytic insights that can drive intelligent automation and improved decision-making. Seeking to transform their data into intelligence, many organizations are turning to solutions such as the SAP S/4HANA® digital core ERP and SAP HANA® in-memory computing capabilities.

Getting maximum value from these technologies, however, requires an “analytics first” mindset platform approach—to help quickly address specific and complex insights-related needs, which can vary by industry, organization, and department.

The “analytics first” approach prioritizes access to existing and emerging data as an integral part of large-scale enterprise solution transformations.

Solutions in sight

Deloitte's Enterprise Analytics Platform is designed to deliver ready-to-deploy analytics solutions and framework for helping you rapidly turn data into intelligent insights—pre-tailored to specific enterprise function and industry needs. The specific analytics solutions and frameworks support enterprise leaders embarking on an “analytics first” path for modernizing systems and deploying new digital capabilities—helping them accelerate business transformation strategies and gain an insight-driven advantage sooner. For organizations considering an SAP S/4HANA® journey, especially, the approach can help get data in order and expedite efforts as they move forward—as a precursor to an SAP S/4HANA project or as an integral part of its first phase. The Deloitte Enterprise Analytics Platform provides:

Analytics-leading practices and frameworks based on SAP® technologies such as SAP S/4HANA and SAP HANA

Industry-specific “leading practices” and KPIs for industries, including:

Consumer

- Automotive
- Consumer Products
- Retail, Wholesale & Distribution (focused on Food & Beverage solutions)

Energy, Resources & Industrials

- Oil & Gas (up-, mid-, and downstream)
- Industrial Products & Construction
- Power & Utilities

Government & Public Sector

Life Sciences & Healthcare

An accelerated development timeline for analytics solutions—with a 30-70 percent potential reduction in development cycles

Reusable data models for expanding and rapidly defining enterprise-specific analytics solutions based on Deloitte's leading practices

How we can help

Deloitte's end-to-end “advise, implement, and operate” capabilities can help you rapidly deploy a “prepackaged” Enterprise Analytics Platform designed to unlock value—in the form of new intelligence that can drive new levels of efficiency, service, and growth.

Leading with an “analytics first” approach, Deloitte can help you quickly reap the benefits from analytics. With “analytics first” and an industry-specific Enterprise Analytics Platform, you no longer are required to build potentially overwrought data warehouses or data lakes, burning precious time and attempting to pre-guess the questions users might ask of enterprise data. Instead, you can put your initial focus on empowering workers with a modern analytics platform that allows them to leverage existing and emerging data—and to flexibly generate needed insights.

Potential benefits

Accelerate your business transformation into an “analytics first” organization

Deliver leading insights for decision-making and intelligent automation

Improve the overall quality of your SAP HANA or SAP S/4HANA data model

Deliver a more uniform, more integrated analytics environment for your workforce

Operate with industry-leading practices

Scale analytics capabilities more readily as your business and data grow

Activate a more Kinetic Enterprise™—an intelligent cloud-enabled enterprise that can respond at the pace of disruption

Make an impact with the Enterprise Analytics Platform

Deloitte's Enterprise Analytics Platform serves as an industry-specific accelerator to help you rapidly enable an intelligent "analytics first" organization driven by SAP solutions, including SAP S/4HANA and SAP HANA.

With the Enterprise Analytics Platform, you can begin to make better use of your data, faster—turning it into intelligence that can help you intelligently automate processes, enhance services, improve strategic decision-making, and uncover insights that can lead to new savings, efficiencies, and growth.

Why Deloitte?

When it comes to analytics and enterprise transformation, Deloitte can help you achieve results—working effectively as an extension of your team.

We do more than help you deploy technology. We help you enable a more Kinetic Enterprise™—one that can respond at the pace of disruption in all facets of your business. Cloud and innovative capabilities are part of the vision. We also bring along specialists in finance, supply chain, HR, customer experience, and more—to help align business processes with new technologies and to help you make an impact that matters.
