1. INTRODUCTION

- The watershed meeting in the administration of the Company was held pursuant to section 239AT of the Companies Act 1993 ('Companies Act'). It was declared open at 1.36pm on 28 September 2020.
- David Webb, one of the joint and several administrators ('Administrators') of the Company introduced himself as the chair of the meeting ('Chair') and introduced the other administrator, Colin Owens.
- The Chair noted the attendance of other Deloitte staff and the administrators' legal advisors, Dentons Kensington Swan.
- The Chair requested that any persons from the media in attendance identify themselves and leave the meeting. No members of the media identified themselves.
- The Chair also noted that some creditors had been successful in obtaining chargebacks in full and were therefore no longer creditors. While these former creditors were not entitled to vote, the Chair confirmed that the Administrators acknowledged their interest in proceedings and were happy for them to attend the meeting.
- Finally, the Chair noted that a representative of the directors of the Company was present and thanked them for making themselves available.

2. PURPOSE OF MEETING

- The Chair explained the purpose of the watershed meeting and the four phases of the administration.
- The Chair said that, at a watershed meeting, creditors would be asked to vote for one of the following outcomes.
 - (1) That the Company enter into a Deed of Company Arrangement (DOCA). In this instance, this option is not available to creditors as the Administrators have not received a DOCA proposal.
 - (2) That the administration end and control of the Company be returned to the directors. In this instance, the Company is insolvent, and the directors do not want control of the Company to be returned to them.
 - (3) That the administration end and the company be wound up (placed into liquidation). The Administrators consider that this option is the only option open to creditors in this instance.
- The Chair confirmed that, as outlined in the Administrators' report, the Administrators' recommendation to creditors was that they would be best served if the Company was wound up and placed into liquidation.

3. FORMALITIES

- The Chair confirmed that the following documents were emailed to creditors, employees & customers and / or posted on the STA Travel Group page on Deloitte's website:
