Budget 2026 reaffirms the Government's steadfast commitment to reinforcing Malaysia's economic foundations while promoting sustainable and inclusive growth. With a total allocation of RM419 billion, comprising RM338 billion for operating expenditure and the remaining RM81 billion for development expenditure, the Budget focuses on enhancing productivity and strengthening national competitiveness. The fiscal deficit is projected to narrow further to 3.5% of GDP, supported by an anticipated increase in revenue to RM343 billion, reflecting the Government's ongoing efforts in fiscal consolidation and expenditure optimisation. Guided by the principles of reform, innovation, and shared prosperity, Budget 2026 places strong emphasis on digitalisation, green transition and the well-being of the rakyat through more targeted assistance. These initiatives, aligned with the Government's reform agenda of "Raising the Ceiling, Raising the Floor and Strengthening Good Governance", demonstrate a forward-looking approach towards achieving sustainable prosperity, equitable development and a resilient future for all Malaysians.

Malaysia Tax & Legal Leader

Budget 2026 continues the economic reform momentum set forth under the Madani Economy framework and marks the first budget under the 13th Malaysia Plan (2026–2030). The government has allocated RM419 billion for 2026, a slight reduction from RM421 billion in 2025. Despite the lower allocation, federal government revenue is projected to rise by 2.7% to RM343 billion, with tax revenue remaining a major contributor, accounting for 78.8% of total revenue while fiscal deficit is expected to improve to 3.5% of GDP. Both development and operating expenditures are expected to grow modestly by less than 2%.

It is not surprising that no new taxes were introduced apart from excise duties on tobacco and alcohol, given the series of tax reforms implemented in recent years. The government targets to increase tax collection to RM270 billion in 2026 — a 6.7% rise or RM17 billion more than 2025. This growth will be driven by initiatives announced in previous years, such as the expansion of the sales tax and service tax (SST) scope, the implementation of a self-assessment system for stamp duty, and the rollout of e-invoicing. To support these measures, tax audits are expected to intensify in 2026 as part of ongoing efforts to enhance compliance and combat tax evasion.

Encouragingly, the government has committed to expedite tax refunds for overpayments. However, clear timelines should be established to ensure transparency, manage taxpayer expectations and assist businesses in maintaining healthy cash flows.

For individual taxpayers, the scope of several tax reliefs has been expanded. The RM3,000 life insurance premium relief now includes payments made for children, while the RM3,000 childcare relief has been extended to cover children up to 12 years of age. While these adjustments offer some relief, a higher relief quantum would be more impactful given the persistent rise in living costs.

From an economic standpoint, Budget 2026 reinforces Malaysia's move toward an innovation-driven, high-value economy, aligned with the New Industrial Master Plan (NIMP) 2030 and the National Energy Transition Roadmap (NETR). Key measures include RM200 million for the Strategic Co-Investment Fund to strengthen SME and mid-tier supply chains via Equity Crowdfunding (ECF) and Peer-to-Peer (P2P) platforms, and RM180 million under the NIMP Industrial Development Fund for high-impact sectors such as pharmaceuticals, semiconductors, AI, digital technology, and sustainability. These initiatives aim to boost industrial capacity, drive innovation and enhance Malaysia's competitiveness in global value chains.

A notable new initiative is the introduction of the ASEAN Business Entity (ABE) status for public listed companies with significant ASEAN market presence or overseas expansion potential. Further details should be forthcoming, but this move should stimulate intra-ASEAN investment and regional economic integration.

In anticipation of Visit Malaysia Year 2026, the government has proposed several tourism-related tax incentives. These include tax deductions of up to RM500,000 for qualifying renovation and refurbishment expenses, income tax exemptions on incremental income from tourism packages, and a RM1,000 personal tax relief for entrance fees to local tourism centres. These measures aim to rejuvenate the tourism sector and attract more visitors.

While carbon tax is set for introduction next year, starting with the steel, iron, and energy sectors, Budget 2026 provides limited details on its implementation mechanism. The government appears to be taking additional time to refine the policy to avoid overburdening businesses. The RM50 million Carbon Border Adjustment Readiness Fund, designed to help exporters comply with EU and UK carbon border measures, is a welcome step, particularly for SMEs facing financial challenges in meeting these new requirements.

Overall, Budget 2026 underscores the government's continued commitment to balancing fiscal consolidation with people-centric priorities, while strengthening economic resilience amid global uncertainties. As the saying goes, "the proof is in the pudding" — the effectiveness of the tax reform measures introduced in recent years will become clearer in 2026, as implementation and compliance efforts progress. This period will also provide an opportunity to further refine policies and ensure Malaysia's path toward sustainable and inclusive growth.

Southeast Asia International Tax Leader

The extension of exemption on foreign source dividends and gains from the disposal of capital assets abroad for resident companies and limited liability partnerships to 31 December 2030 is welcomed and timely. This is important as taxpayers have been waiting for this good news for a while now. This will encourage investment overseas as well as remittance of fund back to our country. Malaysia, at least for now, could maintain its competitiveness as an outbound holding company jurisdiction, bearing in mind that the foreign source income exemption is a permanent feature in countries like Hong Kong and Singapore.

Corporate Tax

Review of tax exemption on income received from outside Malaysia

It is proposed that:

- The scope of tax exemption on foreign-sourced dividend income and foreign-sourced capital gains be expanded to resident cooperative societies and trust bodies for 4 years from 1 January 2027 to 31 December 2030; and
- The tax exemption period on foreign-sourced dividend income and foreign-sourced capital gains received in Malaysia by resident companies and limited liability partnerships as well as foreign sourced income for unit trusts be extended for another 4 years from 1 January 2027 to 31 December 2030.

ACA on capital expenditure for plant, machinery and ICT equipment

It is proposed that the ACA with initial allowance of 20% and annual allowance of 40% be given to the following qualifying capital expenditure incurred from 11 October 2025 to 31 December 2026:

- Procurement of heavy machinery from local manufacturers;
- Procurement of plant and general machinery acquired from local manufacturers;
- Purchase of ICT equipment and computer software; and
- Consultation, licensing and incidental fees related to customised computer software development.

Commentary:

The proposed change allows the ACA for (iii) and (iv) to be fully claimed within 2 years as opposed to the 3 years under existing tax rules.

Meanwhile, further clarification is required to ascertain the scope of the term "local manufacturers" (e.g., whether it extends to local manufacturers owned by foreign companies).

ACA on the cost of purchasing speed limitation devices (SLD) for heavy vehicles

To support efforts in reducing road accidents through the installation of SLD on heavy vehicles, ACA is given on the expenditure for purchasing SLD, up to RM 4,000 per unit, subject to the following conditions:

- the SLD retrofit installation must be certified by a Verification Body recognized by the Road Transport Department.
- the installation of SLD devices applies to heavy vehicles manufactured prior to 1 January 2015 that are not equipped with such devices and is limited to the following categories:
 - goods vehicles with a Gross Vehicle Weight (GVW) exceeding 3,500 kg; and
 - passenger vehicles with a GVW exceeding 5,000 kg and designed to carry more than 8 passengers.
- ACA is not claimable for SLD replacement.

The ACA, consisting of a 20% initial allowance and an 80% annual allowance, applies to SLD installations carried out from 1 January 2026 to 31 December 2026.

Special tax deduction for conversion and renovation of commercial buildings into residential premises

The Government proposes that expenses incurred for converting and renovating commercial buildings into residential premises be given a special tax deduction equivalent to 10% of the qualifying expenditure, capped at RM10 million.

Further tax deduction for expenses incurred on artificial intelligence (AI) and cybersecurity training

To encourage the adoption of AI, expenses incurred by MSMEs on training in relation to artificial intelligence and cybersecurity recognised by MyMahir National AI Council for Industry (NAICI) be given further tax deduction of 50% once in 2 years.

It is proposed that the existing tax deduction of up to RM1.5 million on the cost of listing on Bursa's Main Market, ACE Market and LEAP Market for technology-based companies and MSMEs be extended for another 5 years from YA 2026 to YA 2030. The MSMEs qualify for such tax deduction will be expanded to cover MSMEs in the energy and utilities sectors.

Tax treatment for public university teaching hospitals endowment funds

It is proposed that from the YA 2026, public university teaching hospitals be allowed to establish endowment funds in which the cash contributions to the endowment funds be given tax deduction under Section 44(11D) of the Act, provided that the endowment funds are governed and managed solely by the public university teaching hospitals, in line with the prescribed guidelines. Contributions received, including income generated from the endowment fund, will be exempted from tax. Donors are also eligible for tax deduction equivalent to the amount of the contribution, subject to a maximum of 10% of aggregate income, along with approved donation made under Sections 44(6), 44(11B) and 44(11C).

Hospital Welfare Funds managed by companies limited by guarantee

It is proposed that private hospitals be allowed to establish tax-exempt Hospital Welfare Funds managed by a company limited by guarantee. In addition, contributions to these funds will be tax deductible for donors.

Review of income tax exemption on sustainable and responsible investment (SRI) sukuk and bond grant scheme

To further encourage the issuance of SRI sukuk and bonds that conform to green, social and sustainability standards in Malaysia, it is proposed that:

- i. the grant allocation for external review expenses be increased from 90% to 100%, limited to a maximum grant amount of RM300,000;
- ii. financial instruments under the SRI Sukuk and Bond Grant Scheme be expanded to sukuk and bonds that conform to the ASEAN Taxonomy for Sustainable Finance; and
- iii. the income tax exemption be extended for 3 years.

Ng Lan Kheng

Global Investment and Innovation Incentives (Gi³) Leader

We view Budget 2026 as a strong affirmation of Malaysia's commitment to advancing high-value and technology-driven industries. The full implementation of the Outcome-Based Incentive Framework in 2026, together with key allocations such as the RM200 million Strategic Co-Investment Fund, RM180 million under the New Industrial Master Plan (NIMP) Industrial Development Fund, RM550 million investment by Khazanah and Kumpulan Wang Persaraan (Diperbadankan) (KWAP), and RM500 million financing by Bank Pembangunan Malaysia Berhad (BPMB) under the National Semiconductor Strategy (NSS), are expected to further strengthen Malaysia's high-value economic ecosystem, particularly in semiconductors, AI, digitalisation, pharmaceuticals and sustainability-focused sectors. Looking ahead, we strongly believe these initiatives will significantly enhance Malaysia's global competitiveness and position the nation as a leading player in the high-value economy.

Indirect Tax

Introduction of carbon tax

Initially proposed in Budget 2025, carbon tax has been reiterated to be introduced in 2026 with initial focus on the iron & steel, and energy sectors in Malaysia. To ensure the effective implementation of carbon tax, its mechanisms will accordingly be aligned with the policies under the National Carbon Market Policy and the National Climate Change Bill.

Limitation on vehicle tax exemption in Langkawi and Labuan

Effective 1 January 2026, vehicle tax exemption in Langkawi and Labuan is proposed to be limited to vehicles valued at not more than RM 300,000.

100% excise duty and sales tax exemption on national car purchases by taxi and private hire car owners

The 100% excise duty and sales tax exemption is proposed to continue for the purchase of new national cars, i.e., "Proton" and "Perodua", by taxi owners and private hire car owners. The end date of the exemption was not announced.

Increase in excise duty on cigarettes and other tobacco products

Effective 1 November 2025, excise duty rate on cigarettes is proposed to be increased in phases, starting with an increase of 2 sen per stick, or 40 sen per packet. Excise duty rate for cigars, cheroots and cigarillos is proposed to be increased in phases, starting with an increase of RM40 per kilogram. For heated tobacco products, the excise duty rate is set to increase in phases, starting with an increase of RM20 per kilogram of tobacco content.

Below is a summary of the products affected and the excise duty rates after the increase.

Description	Tariff code	Further Deduction
Cigarette	2402.20.2000 2402.20.9000 2402.90.2000	42 sen per stick @ RM8.40 per packet
Cigars, cheroots and cigarillos	2402.10.0000 2402.90.1000	RM440 per kilogramme
Heated tobacco products	2404.11.0000	RM798 per kilogramme of tobacco content

Extension and expansion of import duty and sales tax exemption on Nicotine Replacement Therapy (NRT) products

It is proposed that:

- Import duty and sales tax exemption on nicotine gum and nicotine patch be extended to 31 December 2027; and
- The scope of exemption for NRT products be expanded to include nicotine mist and nicotine lozenges from 11 October 2025 to 31 December 2027.

The change above is effective for applications received by the MOF from 11 October 2025 to 31 December 2027.

Increase in excise duty on alcoholic beverages

Effective 1 November 2025, it is proposed that excise duty on alcoholic beverages be increased by 10%.

Digital tax stamps

It is proposed that digital tax stamps with enhanced security features be implemented.

The initiative, led by the RMCD, aims to combat counterfeiting and curb revenue leakages at entry points through the Centralised Screening Complex CCTV. This move aligns with the government's commitment to modernise tax administration and enhance transparency under the Ekonomi MADANI framework.

Tan Eng Yew
Indirect Tax Leader

Having broadened the Sales Tax and Service Tax base quite significantly effective July 2025, the Government has shifted focus this Budget to pro-health tax aspirations, in line with the 13th Malaysian Plan proposal, and reiterated its journey plans for implementing carbon tax in 2026.

Individual Tax (cont'd)

It is indeed a People's Budget where we can see the rewards of reform returning to benefit the rakyat.

This transformation is rooted in enhancing the nation's fiscal capacity to provide essential public facilities. By meticulously strengthening its financial foundation, the government has chosen to enhance governance, including targeted subsidies without burdening the rakyat. This disciplined approach enables strategic investment to create jobs and generate income, while concurrently taking concrete measures to alleviate the cost-of-living pressures faced by households.

The combination of prudent fiscal management and citizen-centric policies drives a comprehensive national renewal. This Fourth Madani Budget is designed not just for immediate relief, but for long-term sustainability, forging economic resilience against future global shocks. The true measure of this effort will only be seen if we are successful in raising the rakyat's standard of living, signalling a profound societal rejuvenation. Ultimately, this People's Budget affirms that a strong nation is one where the benefits of reform are shared equitably, empowering every rakyat to thrive.

Deloitte refers to one or more of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited (“DTTL”), its global network of member firms, and their related entities (collectively, the “Deloitte organization”). DTTL (also referred to as “Deloitte Global”) and each of its member firms and related entities are legally separate and independent entities, which cannot obligate or bind each other in respect of third parties. DTTL and each DTTL member firm and related entity is liable only for its own acts and omissions, and not those of each other. DTTL does not provide services to clients. Please see www.deloitte.com/about to learn more.

Deloitte Asia Pacific Limited is a company limited by guarantee and a member firm of DTTL. Members of Deloitte Asia Pacific Limited and their related entities, each of which is a separate and independent legal entity, provide services from more than 100 cities across the region, including Auckland, Bangkok, Beijing, Bengaluru, Hanoi, Hong Kong, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur, Manila, Melbourne, Mumbai, New Delhi, Osaka, Seoul, Shanghai, Singapore, Sydney, Taipei and Tokyo.

About Deloitte Malaysia

In Malaysia, services are provided by Deloitte Malaysia Tax Services Sdn Bhd (formerly known as Deloitte Tax Services Sdn Bhd) and its affiliates.

This communication contains general information only, and none of DTTL, its global network of member firms or their related entities is, by means of this communication, rendering professional advice or services. Before making any decision or taking any action that may affect your finances or your business, you should consult a qualified professional adviser.

No representations, warranties or undertakings (express or implied) are given as to the accuracy or completeness of the information in this communication, and none of DTTL, its member firms, related entities, employees or agents shall be liable or responsible for any loss or damage whatsoever arising directly or indirectly in connection with any person relying on this communication.
