Deloitte Switzerland receives WealthBriefing Award for contributing valuable sector insights

Deloitte Switzerland is pleased to receive the 'Outstanding Contribution to Wealth Management Thought Leadership \(Company\)' award at the WealthBriefing Swiss Awards 2025 on 6 February in Geneva. This recognition reflects Deloitte's ongoing commitment to providing valuable insights that help clients navigate the evolving wealth management landscape.

The annual WealthBriefing Swiss Awards program recognises the most innovative and exceptional firms, teams, and individuals. It is designed to showcase organisations that have demonstrated innovation and excellence during the past year through a rigorous and independent judging process.

The Outstanding Contribution to Wealth Management Thought Leadership Award honours firms that make a lasting impact on the industry through innovative insights. This recognition highlights Deloitte's commitment to delivering research that shapes the future of wealth management. A key example is Deloitte's flagship FSI publication, the 'International Wealth Management Centre Ranking,' led by Patrik Spiller, EMEA Wealth Management Industry Leader at Deloitte.

Commenting on the firm's honours, Jean-François Lagassé, Global Wealth Management Leader and Financial Services Industry Leader at Deloitte Switzerland, explains: "This award is a testament to our team's dedication to delivering innovative, tailored insights that support our clients in making strategic decisions. By leveraging our global network of wealth management experts and fostering collaboration with our clients, we remain at the forefront of industry thought leadership, helping shape its future."

Stephen Harris, ClearView Financial Media's CEO, and publisher of WealthBriefing, was the first to extend his congratulations to all winners: "Every winning entrant has been subjected to a rigorous and independent judging process and should be rightly proud of the success they have achieved this year. This year, we have seen a marked increase in entrants and interest in all our global awards programmes, and the WealthBriefing Swiss Awards 2025 is no exception. These awards allow organisations and individuals to clarify their strategic thinking, have it independently validated, be recognised internally and externally and celebrate in style with their peers."

For Deloitte, this award celebrates past achievements and motivates to continue working closely with clients and partners, delivering research and insights that matter. The company is grateful for the recognition and remains committed to supporting the wealth management industry as it adapts to an ever-changing global environment.
