Deloitte Switzerland appoints 11 new partners

Deloitte Switzerland appoints 11 professionals to its partnership effective 1 June 2026, in addition to welcoming seven external partner hires during this fiscal year. These appointments strengthen the firm’s capabilities across key growth areas.

This year’s partner promotion marks one of Deloitte Switzerland’s largest cohorts in recent years. The new partners bring deep industry knowledge and specialist expertise, reflecting the firm’s continued investment in the capabilities that clients increasingly need.

Alongside the expansion of its partnership, Deloitte Switzerland continues to invest in the development of its people through initiatives that include comprehensive training in artificial intelligence, leadership programmes and structured career pathways. Platforms such as the Next Generation Board and employee communities also help bring broader perspectives into decision-making and strengthen engagement across the firm.

“We are continuing to invest in people and capabilities with a long-term view – because our clients are looking for trusted advice and practical expertise in a rapidly changing environment,” says Reto Savoia, CEO of Deloitte Switzerland. “Our strengthened Swiss partnership positions us ideally to navigate into the future with our clients. Combining strong local expertise with international collaboration allows us to deliver broader capabilities to our clients while continuing to grow exceptional talent here in Switzerland.”
