The Future of Trust

Whistleblowing on the rise

Unprecedented changes in the workplace, remote working practices, and financial pressures have increased the likelihood of fraud, misconduct, and other unethical behaviour in organisations.

Concurrently, regulators across the world have raised the bar for organisations to deal with financial crime and implement whistleblowing processes - breaches of which can result in significant financial penalties.

With heightened awareness of social issues and the rise of social media, organisations are under more pressure than ever to protect their reputation by ensuring that any misconduct is identified and addressed in a timely manner.

Whistleblowing remains one of the most effective counter-measures* to help organisations deal with workplace misconduct. Protect your employees, your organisation, and your reputation by providing secure and trusted channels to report misconduct.

For organisations with 250+ employees, this requirement is immediate.
