BPS - CFO Support Services

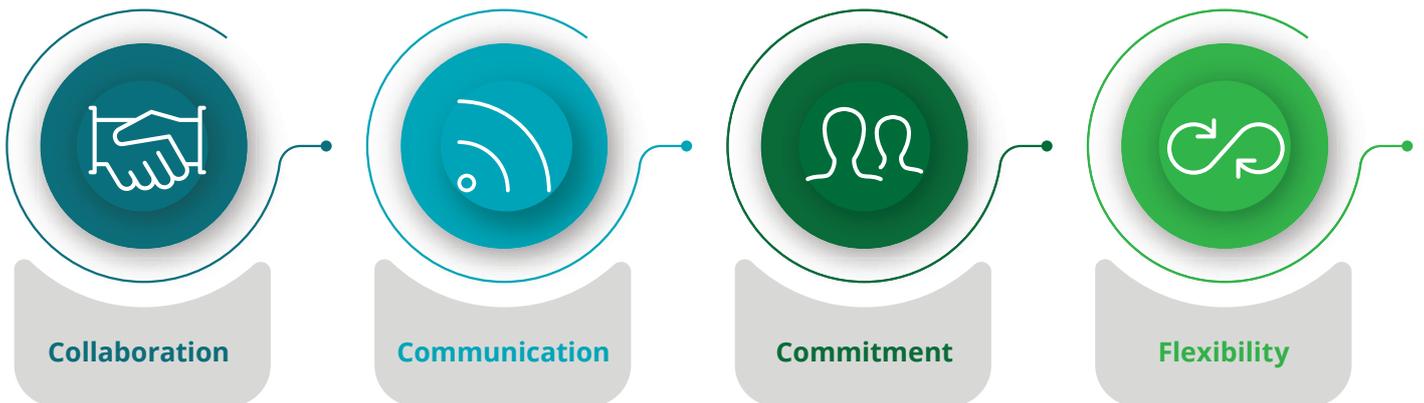

Enhancing performance and efficiency for the finance function

The Business Process Solutions (BPS) practice at Deloitte in Cyprus delivers flexible operational process services to help businesses enhance performance and efficiency. Consequently, our team provides the necessary assistance and professional support that enables clients to concentrate on their core business.

Today's Chief Financial Officers (CFOs) and finance organisations need to execute a much broader range of responsibilities than their traditional role as corporate accountants. Responsibilities relating to efficiency, information quality and consistency, internal controls, corporate governance, and finance talent management, are among the expanded breadth of their role.

BPS core values

Our technology-based solutions, the superior quality of our people, and customised services differentiate us from other service providers.

Our value proposition

Our team of highly skilled accountants is fully equipped to deliver customised CFO support services, where time and efficiency is critical. With extensive experience on multiple projects across industries, our team will work closely with you to provide a seamless and integrated experience.

With a proven track record in Cyprus and beyond, our aim is to enable CFOs and Finance Executives to improve business performance and shareholder value, while actively improving operational effectiveness and efficiency. We can bring a holistic perspective of the finance function that allows CFOs to see opportunities and avoid obstacles that may have been hidden before.
