Alumni Newsletter

June 2025

Welcome to the summer edition of our Deloitte Alumni Newsletter.

This year carries a certain weight. Not because of any celebration or ceremony, but because seventy-five years after a small group began laying the foundations of our firm, their work continues to speak through others. Their tools were trust, judgement, and persistence. Their ambitions were rarely stated. They simply showed up, did the work, and earned the right to be remembered.

What endures is not the number of years but the way those years were lived. The integrity of the decisions made. The relationships formed. The determination to build something that could be handed on. That spirit, unchanged by time or growth, is what defines us still.

Last month, we welcomed ten new Partners and Managing Directors into Deloitte Luxembourg. Each one brings capability, of course. But more than that, they carry a sense of what it means to lead within a culture that values substance over show. Their progress is not just a personal milestone. It is part of a continuum shaped by the contributions of those who came before, many of whom are reading these lines.

In this edition, we look back at this year's DLuxNights, now in its fourth edition. The evening brought together alumni, colleagues, and friends in an atmosphere that was both joyful and familiar. You will also find insights from Francesca Messini in our Deloitte in High Places series, a glimpse into our participation in the Cross-Border Distribution Conference, and an invitation to take part in our Alumni Photo Contest. Each feature reflects a different facet of the firm we have become and the community that continues to support it.

To all our alumni, let me offer something simple. You are not a chapter we have closed. You are a voice we still carry. In the choices we make and the values we uphold, there are traces of what you helped create. That presence is real. It is appreciated. And it continues to guide us.

We often speak of success, but perhaps the truer measure lies elsewhere. In the time we gave each other. In the standards we shared. In the respect we earned. These things are not celebrated in any formal way. But they are what stay with us.

I wish you a summer filled with rest, good conversations, and the quiet satisfaction of knowing that what you helped build is still standing and still meaningful. We look forward to staying in touch.

Kind regards,

John Psaila
CEO-Managing Partner
