

Caroline Norbury

OBE, Chief Executive, Creative UK

Caroline Norbury, OBE, is the Chief Executive of Creative UK, the independent network for the UK's Creative Industries working to support and invest in creative talent and businesses, and unite the UK's creative industries.

Caroline sits on the Creative Industries Council and co-chairs the Investment for Growth sub-group of the Council. She is a member of BAFTA and the Royal Society of Arts and a trustee for the PRS Foundation, a charity supporting new music and talent. Caroline is also Chairwoman of The Music Works, a charity in Gloucestershire changing the lives of young people through music and chairs the pan-industry roundtable on reducing bullying and harassment in the creative industries. She was awarded an OBE at The Queen's Birthday Honours 2022 for her leadership and advocacy across the creative industries.

16th Art & Finance Conference

22 October 2024 | Luxembourg