Elly Andriopoulou

Managing Director, Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center

Elly Andriopoulou is the Managing Director of the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center (SNFCC), appointed in June 2020 and reappointed in December 2023. She also serves on the Alpha Bank Board of Directors as a Non-Executive Member, Member of the Audit Committee and Member of the Corporate Governance, Sustainability and Nominations Committee.

Before joining the SNFCC, Elly held leadership positions in banking, strategy consulting, and philanthropy. More specifically, in September 2012, she joined the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) where she prepared the business plan and future operation of the foundation's largest grant under construction, the SNFCC, and later managed the €50 million grants through which the SNF supported the first five years of the SNFCC's operation, after it had been donated to the Greek State.

Before the SNF, Elly was the Marketing Director for Citibank in Greece. In her long tenure with Citibank, she also served as Customer Advocacy & Segment Head, Customer Interaction Unit Head, Branch Expansion Project Manager, Sales Development Manager, and Quality Officer. Elly has also worked for Oliver Wyman in Boston, consulting Fortune 500 companies on strategy, revenue growth, restructuring, and organizational design. She holds an MBA from Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University, and a BA in Psychology from Deree College.
