

Title

Recognize revenue and other effect on income under IFRS

Introduction

The introduction of the new standard on revenue recognition has had significant impact on revenue figures of entities of various sizes based on the nature of their activities and has led to careful considerations in terms of KPIs.

The effects of the past economic crisis and the constant evolution within the economic and political outlook have triggered and are expected to trigger significant fluctuations in exchange rates.

In response to the growing need for current information of IFRS requirements, the complexity of some requirements and the increasing demand for insights regarding IFRS implementation, Deloitte Luxembourg offers you the possibility of an IFRS training to understand recognition of revenue, impacts of foreign exchange rates and events after the reporting period.

Objectives

After attending this course, participant will be able to:

- Understand the new 5 steps concept under IFRS 15 and modifications to contracts;
- Understand the new concepts introduced by IFRS 15 such as capitalisation of incremental costs, significant financing components etc.
- Understand the changes brought from IAS 18 to IFRS 15;
- Understand what remains in IAS 18 following the application of IFRS 15;
- Identify events after the reporting period requiring adjustments and those not requiring adjustments;
- Identifying periods concerned by IAS 10;
- Understand how balance sheet items and transactions are translated, which exchange rates to be used, identification of functional currency and presentation currency, and translation reserves.

Content

The course will include the main relevant requirements coming from:

- IFRS 15 - Revenue from Contracts with Customers
- IAS 18 - Revenue
- IAS 10 - Events After the Reporting Period
