

Deloitte. | Risk Sensing

Risk Sensing is the powerful tool for your organization that provides intelligence on key risks and opportunities on competitors and clients. Easy, quick and always up-to-date.

Get a Sense of your Risks

Risks are emerging throughout the ecosystem in which your organization operates but remain hidden in vast amounts of news and blog posts. Risk Sensing finds the data and turns it into relevant information to look ahead and anticipate on emerging risks and opportunities.

The solution reads and interprets over 60 million sources across 75+ languages and 150+ countries. It uses a semantic engine to identify risks and opportunities, and links to the applicable companies and locations. This allows you to identify trends, and dive deeper into specific events from the original sources.

Risk Sensing in Action

Client Cases

Risk Sensing for Audit

Risk Sensing has proven its value and uncovered blind-sights to more than 60 audit clients. With data completeness, it facilitated well-informed decisions across six key domains: compliance, business changes, claims and litigation, financial outcomes, fraud detection, cyber risk and sustainability.

Third Party Risk Management

Risk Sensing conducted a supplier risk assessment for an international NGO. The insights supported with “screening our suppliers, checking their stories and reports and asking the better questions” to mitigate the risks found and ensure no bad publicity or other impacts.
