2024 GIFT GUIDE

Your guide to buying better this Christmas

Every year, up to £42million of Christmas gifts end up in landfill.

You have the power to make purposeful purchases!

This gift guide has been lovingly curated because we know how good it feels to give the perfect present and watch someone's face light up. We know that it feels even better when you can rest assured you've spent your hard earned cash on a worthy cause. Can you imagine kicking back this Christmas and revelling in the warm glow of knowing all of your gifts are socially, ethically and environmentally conscious? With our gift guide, you'll do just that. We've thoughtfully put together a selection of the best and most beautiful presents out there, to make your Christmas shopping the easiest and most ethical it's ever been.

Yours merrily,

Gifts for... the team

Please, no more 'stuff'!

Time is the most valuable thing you can give, so why not make your festive season more memorable by treating your family, friends or co-workers to an experience you can share? Spread the Christmas cheer by taking your crew to a charity carol concert. Or, get the gang together for a team cooking experience that benefits the local community. No time to spare? Treat your team to a brownie 'desk drop' from a bakery committed to creating opportunities for disadvantaged women.

Buy smarter!

Buck the trend of fast fashion and pick up some unique, high quality clothes or accessories that won't harm the planet. Did you know we buy more clothing per person in the UK than any other country in Europe? Around 300,000 tonnes of garments are burned or buried in landfill each year - a lot of them have never even been worn. That's the equivalent weight of 48,000 reindeer! Don't worry, if spending hours sifting through the rails of second-hand stores isn't your thing, eBay host a number of charity shops on their platform, or you could grab a gem on Vinted. If choosing clothes for someone fills you with dread, buy them a stitch-along-kit to help them upcycle their pre-existing clothes instead. Or, if you just can't resist buying something brand new, we've found some gorgeous items from socially-conscious brands.

Gifts for... kids

Playtime!

Keep the festive season fun for the kids. For science fanatics, grab the Solar System Model Kit from Barnardo's. On windy winter days, head outside with a pocket kite from Whale and Dolphin Conservation, or stay in and enjoy one of their fantastic games.

Wild at heart

For the wildlife lovers, Whale and Dolphin Conservation have a selection of animal-based arts and crafts kits. Or you could bring the wildlife to your garden this Christmas with a Seedball Wildflower Tube from the Woodland Trust. If you prefer animals from a distance, try a badger jigsaw or you could adopt a goose through Wildfowl & Wetlands Trust. For a special, lasting gift, buy a bracelet that tracks a sea turtle's journey through the ocean.

Gifts for... the person that you don't know

We all know how easy it is to get carried away with our Christmas shopping. Before you blow the budget, why not take a moment to consider if you can afford to give a regular gift to charity. Charities are in desperate need of consistent donations to invest in long term projects and secure their work for the future. Many employers offer payroll giving – a tax-efficient way to make a regular donation to a charity of your choice.
