

Microsoft Digital Workplace Technology Services

From transformation planning and architecture to execution, Deloitte can help you leverage your chosen technologies that will digitally modernise your workplace

With hybrid working models becoming the new normal, organisations need to meet the expectations of a new generation now more than ever. In the wake of a collective rethinking around productivity and improving the work experience, organisations find it difficult to empower, engage and retain employees. Deloitte's portfolio of integrated services with vast functional, technical, and industry experience help clients modernise and unlock greater value from their technology infrastructure.

Transforming your workplace

Deloitte's Digital Workplace Services optimise your operating system/application deployments such as Microsoft Teams, SharePoint, Viva, Power Platform, and other Microsoft digital workplace technologies. Our approach to solutions leverages cloud based products such as Microsoft Intune to manage operating systems as well as mobile devices. The Deloitte difference is that we can help you articulate business value to decision makers and help you implement the solutions to deliver that value.

Unified Comms & Collaboration

Supporting clients across a range of unified communications platforms, including voice, IP telephone, contact centres, messaging and meeting rooms. As well as furthering end user collaboration through AI.

Immersive Work and Learn

Empowering your organisation to use the latest in augmented and virtual reality, to collaborate and use as learning tools. Reduces cost and time taken to certify skills.

Mobility & Device Management

Enabling end users to work collaboratively and securely regardless of location or device. Operating system modifications, settings and applications through the cloud for integrated endpoint management.

User Identity

Helping clients transform in-place on-premise identity management systems to a zero-trust model with asset protection as the main objective. The identity management landscape has shifted, and we help clients navigate what that looks like.

Security & Compliance

Making sure clients have a comprehensive security approach to their digital workplace, ensuring an unhindered user experience whilst also enforcing the latest in endpoint protection, threat detection and data governance.

Business Applications

Implementing cutting edge capabilities that enable flexibility, mobility and business continuity for end users across native cloud and virtual desktop platforms, to meet the requirements of an evolving organisation.

Modernise your workplace to unleash it's full potential

Our clients rely on us to help them choose the technologies that create a productive work environment whether employees are working from home, in a local office, or across the globe. Some of the biggest potential benefits of our Services include:

Operational efficiencies

Making sure you're using your existing technology platforms to their full potential with the most suitable licensing, getting best value for money

Profitability

Improve utilisation of existing IT infrastructure while decreasing costs and increasing profitability

Competitive Advantage through Innovation

Proper alignment between the technology organisation and the rest of the business, to inspire innovation and drive growth.
