

Thinking about... implementing an indirect tax determination solution for your business?

As businesses look to comply with global digital tax agendas, move towards real-time reporting and mitigate the risks of inaccurate indirect tax reporting, there is an urgent need to get the tax calculation 'right first time'.

We can help you throughout all of the key stages of a tax engine implementation.

Why you may need a Tax Determination solution

- Complex cross border supply chains.
- You have extensive product catalogues, mixed taxability of products and are managing changes in liability between regions.
- There are limitations in your current ERP setup.
- You're looking to reduce IT dependency and minimise the maintenance of tax rates and rules.
- The need for getting data 'right first time' and trends towards real time calculation and reporting.
- Improved governance and audit trail.

Vendor selection

- Our specialists have extensive experience of the indirect tax determination market, with established relationships with a number of third party software providers.
- We're here to help you select the right technology for your business and we can facilitate presentations of different technologies and provide helpful tools such as vendor scorecards and assessments.

Implementation partner

- Deloitte is a recognised implementer of the leading technologies in the market, with a team that has over 20 years of experience across all industries.
- Our team has specialists across all of the main ERP platforms and certified implementers who can translate your indirect tax requirements and simplify the complexities of ERP functionality for a successful implementation.
- We can deliver end-to-end tax determination automation from blueprint and design all the way through to go-live, including testing and hyper-care support.
