In association with BlackLine

Deloitte and BlackLine help accounting teams close faster and with greater control by connecting financial close applications that automates month-end processes with deep implementation experience.

Transform financial close and intercompany processes

Manual reconciliations, high-volume transaction matching, and intercompany activity can slow even the strongest accounting teams. Deloitte helps clients implement BlackLine to automate financial close, intercompany transactions, and invoice-to-cash, so teams spends less time reconciling and more time guiding the business.
