

Entry into force of the digital platforms reform

In accordance with the provisions of the first transitory article of the Decree that adds various provisions to the Federal Labor Law (LFT), regarding digital platforms, published in the Mexico's official gazette (DOF) in December 2024, the labor reform regarding digital platforms will generally come into force on 24 June 2025.

It is important to mention that this reform is applicable to work on digital platforms, which is defined as a subordinate labor relationship consisting of performing remunerated activities that require the physical presence of the worker to provide the service, managed by a natural or legal person on behalf of third parties through a digital platform, using information and communication technologies to exercise command and supervision.

In this regard, those natural or legal persons who manage these work relationships through digital platforms will be required to comply with the labor obligations established in Chapter IX Bis of the LFT.

For the above purposes, the Ministry of Labor and Social Welfare will have a period of 5 days from the entry into force of the reform to publish general provisions that will define the calculation of the net income of workers.

Additionally, as from 24 June, the Technical Council of the Mexican

Social Security Institute (IMSS) and the Board of Directors of the Institute of the National Workers' Housing Fund (INFONAVIT) will have a period of the following 5 days to publish in the DOF the general rules related to a mandatory participation pilot program to ensure the workers of digital platforms.

Once these general rules are published, the IMSS will have a period of 180 calendar days to prepare initiatives in accordance with the results of the pilot program, which will define aspects related to compliance with these obligations, to be presented to the Legislative Branch for discussion and approval.
